Before the recess, the North Carolina Legislature passed a resolution, requesting Congress to repeal the act striking off the names of the Southern survivors of the War of 1812 from the pension

On Tuesday of last week, Senator Ransom presented the resolution of the North Carolina Legislature, which was referred to the Committee on Pensions, and ordered to be printed.

On Thursday last an animated discussion sprang up in the House of Con gress on the question of restoring to the pension rolls the names of the Southern survivors of the war of 1812.

towards the South of the Northern Representatives in Congress, the debate on the survivors of the war of 1812, reported in the Congressional Globe on Friday last, will be found exceedingly interesting. That debate developed the fact that not all the Northern Republican members of Congress are filled with prejudice and hate towards the South, and that some of them who have heretofore been violent in their abuse and denunciation of the Southern people, now exhibit a kinder and more charita-

Mr. Willard, Republican, of Vermont from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions and War of 1812, reported back the bill, restoring the names of certain persons to the pension rolls, and recommending its passage. The names of these persons had been stricken from the rolls in accordance with the acts of Congress, excluding from the pension law, persons who gave aid and comfort to the enemies of the Government during the late rebellion, and requiring proof of loyalty, &c. The Secretary of the Interior struck from the rolls the names of pensioners who resided in the Southern States, without inquiring into their rence. To our Senator Mr. Norwood, loyalty, thus throwing the burden of they did not give aid and comfort to the rebellion.

Mr. Willard's bill repeals all previous acts making distinctions on account of residence, and restores to the pension parties the admission that the gentlerolls the names of all soldiers of the war of 1812, no matter what may have been their sentiments during the war, Mr. Willard supported the bill in a patriotic specch of Illinois, both Republicans, seconded Maynard's efforts, and wanted proof of the claimant's loyalty before allowing him the benefit of a pension. Except from these three members, the Bill encountered no serious opposition.

Manard, Republican, of Tennessee, labored hard to defeat the measure, and offered an amendment that in case of proof be made of the pensioner's loyalty during the rebellion, all arrearages of pensions shall be paid to him.

Even Butler, of Massachuset's, ese poused the measure most heartily and soldiers of 1812, without regard to their position during the late war. He was bitterly opposed to taking the persions from these old veterans, no matter if they did espouse the cause of the South. He said these pensions were the property of these old soldiers, bestowed on them by their country for a valuable consideration of wounds suffered and lifeblood lost in defense of their country's quent appeal in behalf of the Southern veterans. He said that Congress had from time to time removed the disabilities of prominent gentlemen from the South who had participated in the rebellion, some of whom held offices with high salaries under the Government, and that the President had appointed quiet to the land, in the regaining the former rebels to lucrative positions. No one should hesitate to restore the pen sion-rolls giving eight dollars a menth to a "poor, one legged veteran of the war of 1812, because he had perhaps a son in the late war to whom he gave a

Mr. Bingham, Republican of Ohio, followed in the same strain, and his remarks were applauded at the close. In the course of his speech, referring to to his former opposition to the acts of is from black. He is young, ardent Congress excluding rebels from the benefits of the pension, he said.

"It occurred to me then, as it does now, that an old man eighty years of age, not one of them can be less, it being now fifty-eight years since peace was declared after the war of 1812-it occurred to me such a man, having rendered such service to his country, being overtaken by the storm of rebellion in South Carolina, Mississippi, or Georgia, when the arm of the government was shortened so it could not protect or defend him, was not to be held upon the statute book of the county as a criminal because he gave shelter to his own children. I ask for the honor of my country that this bill may pass, and this weight laid on these old men be removed, so that when their time comes to lie down in their graves, they will lie down with the pleasant recollection that their country, for which they fought in the days of their pride and strength did not desert and dishonor them in the n the day of their death."

This speech was greeted with applause, and the Bill passed its third reading by a large majority.

THE CONSERVATIVE APPEAL

We are glad that the North Carolina Amnesty Bill is receiving such strong endorsement and approval from the Conservative press of the State. We have not yet seen any paper of our party take ground against it. We have already given articles from several of them strongly urging its passage. We copy below an able editoial from the Hillsboro Recorder, and will continue to give extracts from our

The Recorder mentions Messrs. Norwood, Dunham and Scott as entitled to the credit for getting the bill through the Senate. All three of these gentlemen made unusually able and effective speeches in favor of the bill. Mr. Norwood will, we learn, at the request of several Senators and others, give a copy of his speech to the papers for publication in full. Mr. Scott's effort was considered one of the strongest arguments in favor of the measure, while the speech of Major Dunham has been frequently mentioned as one of the most forcible and eloquent that has been delivered in the Senate during the present session. It produced a decided impression on that body and made much reputation for the speaker for ability and eloquence.

But besides the three Senators mentioned by the Recorder, the efforts of several others are entitled to at least an equal claim of gratitude for their zeal, ability and services in behalf of the iron plate, which gives body to the bill. Among these may be mentioned shutter, while the exterior form is ob-Col. William A. Allen, of Duplin, who introduced the bill, and who labored as faithfully for it as any Senator on the floor. Senators Murphy, Waring, Flemming, Welch, Merrimon, Morehead and Worth, spoke at greater or less length in favor of the bill:

[From the Hillsboro Recorder. AMNESTY.—The people will draw a breath of relief when they find themselves freed from the incubus which has so long weighed upon their fortunes and their liberties. These long deferred measures of reason and of justice have taken shape, have passed the Senate. and have gone to the House for concurto Mr. Dunham, of Wilson, and to Mr. Scott, of Onslow, is the State mainly proof upon such persons to show that indebted for the successful issue of a debate which arrayed on both sides the chief talent of the Senate. The radical champions combated the neasure with all the rancor of extreme partisanship, while candor will extort from both men on the other side were animated by the broadest views of patriotism, by the most enlarged sentiments of humanity, and really above all, by the most enlightened common sense. For to this extent, it had to come at last. The sense of the country revolted at the idea of keeping the ordinary incidents of war perpetually alive. All history shows that every war is followed by disorders, by an unsettled state of society, by a lax administration of the laws. by the gratification of private vengeance; in short, by an indulgence of human nature, and while humanity must mourn, and while justice may assume her sternest front, yet it is necessary to look with indulgent eye upon crime which owes its existence to a peculiar state of society; a state which can have but a temporary duration. That limit has long since been reached. The laws have resumed their sway. All is quiet in the land, and it were therefore as unwise as cruel, to keep in remembrance acis of violence which owed have passed away. That violence was committed has not been denied; neither can it be denied that it was often justly provoked; but in its commission, the law was violated, and among its violators were embraced many thoughtless, impulsive young men, with otherwise all the elements of good citizenship, to whom the past, for some years, has been made a constant source of terror or annoyance. They can now breathe freely. They can now pursue their avocations undisturbed by the fear of the spy and the informer, The State no longer fears to its strength. In all views, in the removal of a fruitful cause of annoyance and persecution, be the restoration of the rights of manhood, in the silencing of the brood of informers, the Amnesty Bill stands foremost in the important measure of the session, and the thanks of the State are due to the gentlemen by whose energy, ability and eloquence it was carried through.

GENERAL GORDON.—Of General John B. Gordon, Senator elect from Georgia, the correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says:

He has nothing of the Stephens in his composition. He is as different as white stout, eloquent, full of nerve, energy, vim and push, a brilliant orator, a dashing military officer, and a man who never knew tear. In the Southern army he won the the title of the bravest of the brave. He is forty years old, well built, about medium height and rather slender, and would be handsome if a piece of bombshell had not made an ugly gash in his cheek. He was in all the battles he could by any possibility get into, and bears scars all over his body. This gives him strength among the Colonels, Captains and Lieutenants, who make up a good portion of the Georgia Legislature. They remember their comrade in arms.' Camp-fire and hardtack ties are not severed in seven years.

AN UMBRELLA THIEF .- Justice has at last overtaken one of those wicked persons who have so long defied the law with impunity-not in this country, we are sorry to say, but in England, where an umbrella thief has been sent to the penitentiary for fourteen days. He carried off the sacred implement from the waiting room of a railway station, and when asked by the Judge what he had to say for himself, he declared that he had left the station with the umbrella in a fit of abstraction. This was evident enough, but the Court sent him up all the same.

JUDGE TANEY'S DAUGHTERS .- At a meeting of the Bar Association in New York, on Thursday evening, Mr. Evarts, the President, briefly but feelingly called the attention of the association to the needs of Judge Taney's daughters, now elderly ladies, and who were forced to labor manually for a living, when their father had given over thirty years to the country, and expressed his own feeling that the bar of the country would do something for their father's sake.

The oldest man in the world has at length been discovered. His name is Jose Martino Continho, a resident of Cape Frio, in the province of Rio Janeiro, Brazil, who was born on the 20th of May, 1694, and is therefore, nearly one hundred and seventy nine years old It is said that he has forty two children by six wives, and can count one hundred and twenty three grand children, eighty six great grand children, twenty three great great grand children, and twenty children of the last.

It is a good thing to turnish jails and prisons with libraries, but the purpose should be to mitigate the horrors of prison life rather than increase them. The authorities of St. Louis, however, have been guilty of the barbarity of beginning a library for the county jail with thirty volumes of Tupper. This action might possibly be defended on the ground that it will tend to repress

R D A OIL HOUSE OF CHARLES PRATT, NEW YORK, Jan. 30, 1873.

JULIUS LEWIS & CO., Fisher Building Raleigh, N. C., Sole Agents:— Owing to several incorrect reports of the late fire at our Works, and in answer to numerous inquiries from our friends, we take this occasion to inform you that our business will not be seriously impaired on account of it, and that we shall continue to fill orders as promptly as heretofore. Below we append extract from the New York "World," of Jan. 27th, as containing the most correct account:

"About ten o'clock last evening a fire

"About ten o'clock last evening a fire broke out in Charles Pratt's Astral Oil Works, foot of North Twelfth street, Brookbroke out in Charles Pratt's Astral Oil Works, foot of North Twelfth street, Brooklyn, E. D. Dense volumes of smoke soon followed, and the fire continued to spread until six of the large stills were in one mass of flames. Steps were at once taken to prevent its spread to the main buildings, containing a very large amount of property. In this they were more successful. The stills are located on the east end of the works, and are isolated from the storehouses and factory. The losses are as follows: There were fourteen stills in all, six of which were on fire. There were four stills of 275 barrels capacity, and two of 500 barrels capacity. These were all destroyed, involving a loss of $20,000. Loss on oli estimated at $5,000. Loss on buildings about $2,000. The buildings about the stills were all new and were not quite finished. There are 300 men employed in the factory, but the fire will not interfere with them much. This was believed to be the finest oil factory in the country, and occupies a space one block in width, from North Twelfth to North Thirteenth street, and from First street to the East River, a distance equal to three blocks."

We may add that two of the 500 bbi. stills are now found to be but slightly damaged. No damage whatever was done to Treating and Bleaching Tanks, or Pump Room. The loss is simply the temporary reduction of about half our distilling capacity, to which extent we shall resume on Wednesday, the 20th inst.

SOLUBLE SEA ISLAND GUANO!

State Fair Premium at Wilmington for the Largest Amount of Cotton to an Acre.

GOLDSBORO, Wayne County, N. C., November 23rd, 1872. JOHN H. POWELL, Esq.:

DEAR SIR—The Soluble Sea Island Guano purchased of you this season was used by the side of three others, and Las given me more satisfaction than any of the others. The Soluble Sea Island Guano was the one used upon the acre of land upon which my son raised the cotton upon which he took his State premium for the greatest amount of cotton to an acre; and I am informed by the Chairman of the Committee that had he entered for the largest amount of cotton to the acre, premiums open to all ages, he would have also taken that premium, beating all 150 lbs. I am better pleased with it than any other Guano I have ever used on cotton, and I shall use it in preference to others next season for my cotton crop.

YANCEYVILLE, Caswell County, N. C. December 6th, 1872.

Captain W. P. ROBINSON,

DEAR SIR—In reply to your inquiry as to how I liked the Sea Island Guano I got of you, I wish to say that I applied it, 200 pounds to the acre, alongside of Peruvian, Pacific Guano and Gilham's Tobacco Fertilizer in equal quantities; it stands the drouth better than either of the above fertilizers. It natured better on the hill and cured better and more yellow than either of the other fertilizers used. I think it is a splendid fertilizer and I expect to use it next season.

Yours, respectfully,

MARCELLUS MIMMS.

Messrs. HARRISS & BLACKWELL: GENTS—I used this season, on my cotton crops about 15 tons of your Soluble Sea Island Guano, testing it by the side of Guanape and Vegitator, and up to the time of the heavy washing rains last of June, I was equally pleased with its action as of the Guanape and better pleased than with the Vegitator. HOME LIFE COMPANY. Its Officers and Directors are citizens of the State, of high character for business capacity, enterprise and probity, It offers SUBSTANTIAL BENEFIT that Northern Companies do, with the great additional consideration that the capital is kept within the State, and, therefore, helps to build up and foster Home Institutions. Another important fact to be considered is, that the Wilmington Live has thus far obtained A VERY MUCH LARGER INTEREST for the money invested at home, than any of the New York Companies receive for their investments, according to their sworn statements before the Commissioner of that State.

These unquestionable facts should commend this Company, above all others, to our people. Let it be born in mind that millions of dollars received for Life pre-miums have been sent North since the war, which at once drains the South and enricnes the plethoric capitalists of the North. If there was no other consideration, safety, fairness and cheapness being equal, why North Carolinians should Insure at Home.

THE WILMINGTON LIFE has excellent special features.
It places no restriction on Residence or Travel; it makes no extra charge for Female risks; and its Policies are incontestable after Five Years.

Its business is managed economically.

Its risks are taken with equal caution. Its investments are made judiciously. Its motto is:

THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE CO.,

Annual Income, Nearly $10,000,000.00!!!

This Company has steadily pursued two great practical ends: FIRST. To place its policies beyond the power of dverse contingencies.

SECOND. SECOND.

To reduce the actual outlay of its members for their policies to the lowest possible rate. To accomplish this, it allows him to retain from 20 to 30 per cent, of the first premium as a permanent credit or loan, and to retain from each subsequent premium that portion of the previous year's full premium actually proved to be surplus; so that at no time does the Company take from him a higher actual premium than is needed to carry the risk for the year, and from him a higher actual premium than is needed to carry the risk for the year, and provide the reinstrance fund. It is strictly Mutual. Nothing is diverted to stock-holders, and each member has his insurance at its exact cost to the Company. Its rate of expense has been from the beginning less than that of other companies.

In a speech the King said: "Our relations with the foreign governments are of a most friendly character, and I am satisfied will continue so if we faithfully discharge our duty in conformity with the principles of justice and comity recognized among nations. At home, there is peace and reasonable prosperity, which it will be my earnest endeavor to promote. The Islands are capable of tar higher improvement than they have They enjoyed. before have capacity enough to make a Kingdom which shall command the respect of other nations as well as the greatest comfort and happiness to a far larger number of people. We are fortunately placed, by nature, on the great ocean highway of nations. Commerce of all flags should be attracted hither by the safety of our harbor, our abundant products and liberal laws and regulations of our ports. All legisla tion in future, having in view proper protection and promotion of our commercial relations shall meet my hearty concurrence,"

Steamship Murrillo.

CADIZ, Feb. 5 .- The dispatch from Lisbon announcing that the steamship Murillo had been sighted off that port was incorrect, as she is yet at Cadiz where she has remained since her arrival. The British Consul here has demanded the issue of a writ of attachment against her. The Captain of the Murillo and the officer who was on watch at the time of the disaster to the Norfleet happened, are held as prisoners on a Spanish man of war pending the investigation. The crew are under guard and are not allowed to go ashore. The Spanish authorities, who have made an examination of the Murillo, declare that she shows no signs of having been in collision, and it is their belief that she is guiltless of running down and sinking the Northfleet.

Money Influence on a New York Jury.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 .- The Coroner's Jury in the case of the murder of Duryea by Simmons yesterday, returned a verdict that the deceased died from stab | tionate ammunition, and two hundred wounds at the hands of Simmon's. But to this they added their belief, that the murderous assault was not premeditated; that the prisoner, from previous threats made by Duryen towards him, may have considered his life threatened. be represented in Simmons' family, and members of the firm are responsible. the jurors are men whose standing is questionable.

MIDNIGHT DISPACTAES.

Congressional. WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- House .- Petitions pro and con about the repeal of the bankrupt law were presented. Rice, of Arkansas, introduced a reso lution directing the Committee on Elections and Privileges to inquire whether there was a legal government in Arkansas; went over under the rules. The Committee to consider the Credit Mobilier evidence taken by the House Committee, as it affects Senators, consists of Morrill, of Maine, Scott, Stockwell, Wright and Stevenson.

The Finance bill resuming specie payment this year and free banking next, was tabled-yeas 29, nays 27. The conference report about the sloops of war was adopted. It provides for eight; four to be constructed at private yards.

The Diplomatic bill was resumed. The appropriation for the United States and Mexican Commission was stricken out, the commission being defunct.

Adjourned. House .- Beck, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill to amend the Internal Revenue law, the effect of which he explained as follows: The first section restored the provision of the law of 1862, which allowed producers of tobacco to sell at the place of production to consumers to an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars. The second section proposed to increase the fractional parts of barrels required to be stamped by including thirds of barrets. The third section proposed to !provide that the man who made wine | 2 from grapes, cased by himself might pace of prediction, with our paying the twenty five domars spe e at tax ow required. On that expla-

tate if the bill was possed Packer, o. Pa, from the Committee on honds and Canals, reported a bill au horizing the construction of a railroad bridge across the Mississippi river at Memphis, Tenn. In teply to the questions by Furkelburg, he stated that the units spin of the bridge was to be at 'ast iour bundred feet to the clear, and that the bridge might be built with a draw. Finkelburg, of Mo., Z opposed the bill, remarking that all o were agreed that no budge with a draw o should be built over the Mississippi below St. Louis. Such bridges had already done damage enough above that city. No such detriment to commerce should be permitted below that point, and it was questionable whether any bridgeshould be permitted between St. Louis and New Orleans. The Merchants Exchange, of St. Louis had met yesterday in order to consider that subject, and he expected to hear from that meeting to-morrow. He hoped that the bill would either be recommitted or referred to the Committee of Commerce.

Cox, of New York, gave notice that he would move to lay the bill on the Potter asked Packer whether the bill had been recommended by the Engineer officers of the government. Packer replied that it had not, but that the interests of the government were entirely guarded by making the the matter subject to the judgment and control of the Secretary of War. Potter cautioned the House against repeating the blunder that it had committed some time ago in authorizing a bridge across the Ohio river at Cincinnati, which had subsequently to be changed at great expense, for which the government was now held responsible. He was satisfied that no bridge should now be permitted by Congress across any of the great rivers of the country without the most carnest deliberation and without the examination and report of some officers of the govern-tional banks was presented to the Senate Committee on Finance to day as proposed by the Comptroller on Trdasury.

Railroad Decision.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 5 .- The Vice Chancellor delivered an opinion in the bill praying for an injunction against the National Railroad and other roads bought by the Pennsylvania Railroad. He decided that the roads had no right under their charter to construct through roads, and to use them for that purpos was fraud. He ruled for the complain ants on every point, and granted the injunction against the National Railroads.

A Fight With the Carlists. MADRID, Feb. 5 .- The Government has intelligence of a second battle between the Carlists and Royalists. The Carlists were defeated with great loss of men and stores. The fight occurred at Aya, a small place in the north. The Minister of War announces that two hundred insurgents were killed, eleven hundred rifles captured with propor
